We are the class of 2008, and over the past four years we have been more than students sharing a common vision, we have become a family. We have counted and depended on each other, helped each other grow and in doing so we have enhanced each other's personal journey through this four year program. It is hard to image that only four short years ago we were mere strangers starting out on this intense journey but now as we stand here as friends and reflect back on all the wonderful memories we've created during our time at ICO, be not sad but relish in the fact that these people that surround you will continue to be your friends and colleagues for a life time. While our time as optometry students has expired, we can leave the halls of ICO confident in our skills and begin to apply our knowledge and experience as practicing professionals. Get excited because we are the future of this profession and what a bright future the profession of optometry has...congratulations class of 2008!
